By Frank H. Sweet

Eleven Appomattox 4-H'ers are in Adams County, Nebraska this week as part of an Interstate Exchange Program. These 4-H'ers will return next Wednesday or Thursday. While in Nebraska they are living with 4-H families and being treated to educational and enjoyable learning experiences. The group taking a set of color slides which will be available for use by civic groups or community organizations upon their return. Participating in the exchange are: Karen Stevens, Lisa Moore, Laurie McLean, Susan Parris, Willis Fleshman, Dale Glover, Jim Hix, David Caldwell, Ernie Chenault, Steve Cobb, and Tommy Williams.

The special pork poster contest sponsored by the Piedmont Porkettes will end on Friday, July 27th. Posters featuring the theme "Be Choosy--Choose Pork" should be turned in by Friday at the Extension Office. The poster contest is being held to promote the nutritive value of pork products. Posters should be 22 inches by 14 inches (half of a standard sheet of poster paper). Ribbons and other appropriate awards will be given.

Five County Fair catalogs should be out soon. Please watch future issues of the TIMES-VIRGINIAN for announcements about new catalogs for the 1979 Five County Fair. It's time for 4-H members to begin planning for this year's exhibits.

A new community 4-H club selected the name of the Appomattox 4-H Achievers last week. The club has eighteen members and have already begun plans for an educational exhibit at the Fair. Mrs. Elaine Stanley is serving as organizational leader for the clubc.

There is a need for a community 4-H club in Spout Spring, Vera, Concord and Red House areas of the county. All it takes is several interested young people and an interested parent or two and we can begin. Give us a call if you're interested. Mrs. Walton, Miss Marsh or I'll be happy to work with you.

The Teen Leader Club continues their successful ways on Channel 7's Klassroom Kwiz. Be sure to watch Monday night at 7:30 P.M.
